

Dialysis Australia Assisted Home Haemodialysis (AHHD) Model of Care.

This program allows eligible patients to receive complete haemodialysis treatment in the comfort of their own home, administered by a registered nurse.

What we offer:

- Full haemodialysis care at home
- Nurse-assisted treatment during every session
- Support in transitioning from hospital to home dialysis
- No extra out-of-pocket costs for in-home dialysis services

Benefits of Home Dialysis include:

- Greater flexibility with treatment times
- Improved quality of life
- Reduced travel costs
- Ability to continue working
- Lower risks of complications
- Improved sleep and mental wellbeing

To access these services through Dialysis Australia, you must be covered by a participating health fund. Eligible funds include:

- Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA)
- Medibank
- BUPA
- NIB
- Apia
- Real Insurance
- Australian Seniors
- AAMI
- GUHealth
- ING
- Suncorp
- Qantas Insurance
- Priceline Health Insurance

Please note: If a Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) patient is referred to the program and proceeds with home dialysis, Dialysis Australia will accept an additional patient referral without private health insurance to join the program at no cost, provided they are assessed and deemed suitable through our standard home assessment process.

For more information on how the program works, please refer to the attached brochure.

If you have any questions or would like assistance determining eligibility, please don't hesitate to contact our office on 1800 994 244. Our team is here to guide you through each step of the process.